Softshell Logi is a Replacementshell for Windows. It has a Taskbar with auto-sizeble (taskbar-buttons), a SwapForm to make the right swap, a clock with change from time to date and time, doubleclick for system-time, a Startmenu with Programs, Favorites, Desktop, My Documents, Find, Run, Control Devices, Recycled and Shut-Down. It also has a Quick menu where you can place shortcuts in (place them in the dir called Quickmenu it can be found in the App.path). The Quickmenu also collect the items as you have placed above the Programs-menu in the Orginal Startmenu. Don't forget to put amclabel.ocx in the system dir(comes with the .zip file..)... NEWS: The Scrolling function on the startmenu is finished, You can run it under VB5 if you make some changes in the modDevice1 /ExtractFileName (Read to understand) a new function called 'RevString' insted of using the command 'strReverse'.END NEWS Special Thank's to: Brian and his [BoS-Shell]... This is a very cool code. I have been telling brian what to make his shell do and he would do some of it but he never got around to making the start menu scroll up and down. This doesn't look as cool as BoS but it does have functions that BoS doesn't have. I rate this Excellent. You an Brian should join together and make the ultimate Shell. Good Coding!!! 32 Keep the Planet clean! If this comment was disrespectful, please report it: Reason: Report it
